DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 4, 8, 12, 16, 21 and 25 are objected to because of the following informalities:

- Regarding claims 4, 12 and 21, "present(ing) sub-class information of the class said input command identified", should be worded properly, for a more clear understanding.
- Regarding claims 8, 16, 25, "presenting/presents through said output system further information of the class or sub-class said input command identified", should be worded properly, for a more clear understanding.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kovesdi et al. (PGPUB 2003/0155413), hereinafter referenced as Kovesdi.

Regarding claims 1, 9 and 18, Kovesdi discloses a method, system and computer program, hereinafter referenced as a method for presenting and browsing information, comprising the steps of:

classifying the information into a plurality of classes and sub-classes, each class having at least one sub-class (winter/summer; column 4, paragraph 0039 and column 5, paragraph 0054); and presenting the plurality of classes of information to a user (display; column 4, paragraph 0045 and column 13, paragraph 0095-0096).

Regarding claims 2, 10 and 19, Kovesdi discloses a method further comprising the step of interactively controlling the presentation of the sub-classes (column 8, paragraph 0075 and column 13, paragraph 0095-0096).

Regarding claims 3, 11 and 20, Kovesdi discloses a method further comprising the step of directional tagging said classified information for spatial presentation (tags; column 4, paragraph 0039 with column 6, paragraph 0060-0062), wherein each class is audibly presented from a different position in space based on the directional tagging (tag; column 4, paragraph 0039 with column 6, paragraph 0060-0062).

Regarding claims 4, 12 and 21, Kovesdi discloses a method wherein the interactively controlling step includes the steps of:

receiving an input command from the user, said input command containing information identifying a position in space from which a class was presented (objects in the proximity/location determination; column 7, paragraph 0064); and presenting sub-class information of the class said input command identified (column 8, paragraph 0075 and column 13, paragraph 0095-0096).

Regarding claims 5, 13 and 22, Kovesdi discloses a method wherein the input command is received through a spoken command from the user (speech recognizer; column 6, paragraph 0059 with column 7, paragraph 0064).

Regarding claims 6, 14 and 23, Kovesdi discloses a method wherein the input command is received through an input device having means for determining a direction to which a user points (objects in the proximity/location determination; column 7, paragraph 0064 with GPS; column 4, paragraphs 0040-0041 and column 13, paragraph 0098).

Regarding claims 7, 15 and 24, Kovesdi discloses a method wherein the input command is received through an electrical or mechanical input device (inputting information; columns 4-5, paragraph 0046 and column 12, paragraph 0089).

Regarding claims 8, 16 and 25, Kovesdi discloses a method wherein the interactively controlling step includes the steps of:

receiving an input command from the user, said input command containing information identifying a class or sub-class (column 39, paragraphs 0039-;0040) and presenting further information of the class or sub-class said input command identified (objects in the proximity/location determination; column 7, paragraph 0064).

Regarding claim 26, Kavesdi discloses a method wherein the input command is received through at least one of a speech recognition system, an input device having means for determining a direction to which a user points and a standard computer input device (speech recognizer; column 6, paragraph 0059 with column 7, paragraph 0064).

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- Cesar et al. (USPN 6,172,596) disclose a system, method and apparatus for identifying and communicating with a plurality of types of radio frequency communication devices.
- Krukóws et al. (PGPUB 2002/0121986) disclose a method and system for identifying an object and announcing a voice message.
- Goldberg (USPN 6,526,158) discloses a method and system for obtaining person-specific images in a public venue.
- Hidaka et al. (PGPUB 2002/0017992) disclose an article identifying system.
- Ellis (USPN 5,973,618) disclose an intelligent walking stick.
- Moore et al. (USPN 5,917,174) disclose a device for assisting the visually impaired in product recognition and related methods.
